Birmingham Insight Day - Pathways to Property

The Pathways to Property programme supports young people who may not traditionally have access to opportunities within the property industry, to engage in events and activities, supported by academics and the industry, to learn more about careers within property and how to access these. Activities include a residential at the University of Reading, work experience and online mentoring.

In 2023, we are launching two exciting new initiatives for year 12 students, to more flexibly engage young people. One of these is an online programme taking place over the Easter holidays, and the other is a series of Insight Days. These Insight Days will be taking place in a range of towns and cities across the UK, hosted by our industry partners.

The first of these will be taking place on 2nd March 2023 in central Birmingham. The day will include:

- Insight into the property industry delivered by those working within the sector
- Meet our current students, studying Real Estate and Planning courses at Henley Business School, University of Reading
- Undertake a project designed to develop knowledge about the industry, presenting back to senior industry representatives
- Go on a site visit to developments in Birmingham centre, learning about how the sites were developed and the various careers involved
- All travel and refreshment costs will be covered

Having participated in the Insight Day, you will be offered the opportunity to undertake a week's work experience with a Real Estate company in October half-term, can undertake e-mentoring with one of our students, and if you go on to study a Real Estate related course at any university, can apply for a bursary worth £10,000 per year, up to £30,000 (you will also be given a £1,000 bursary if you study a Real Estate and Planning course at Reading).

You are able to apply for a place on this event by completing the application form you can find on this page. On these pages you will also be able to find information about our Easter online programme (Spring into Property), and our summer residential (you are only able to attend one of these events however). Places will be prioritised to those who meet our programme priority groups, for example those living in IMD quintile 1 and 2 postcodes.
